ENSNARING THY SENSES...

LAUGH OUT LOUD

FINDING THE FUNNY

“The only way to survive is to have a sense of humor”.

When things are difficult, awful, stressful, the thing that always gets you through is a sense of humor. From there to here, here to there, funny things are everywhere. If you think you have in you what it takes to be the next Kanan Gill, Aurora2K15 brings to you LOL-The Stand Up Comedy competition.

You walk onto the stage. Your heart beats louder. You know you have to deliver. Deliver something big, face the audience, meet their expectations, face their anticipation, weariness, demand and leave them with a wide, gratified smile only and only through your words. Stand-Up comedy is considered to be one the most difficult thing to create and perform. Do you think you have what it takes? Are there times when all you can think about is how to make the situation funny? Do you consider Steve Martin, Jerry Seinfeld, Russell Peters to be your idols? It's not easy to go on stage and have people laugh at you, but if nothing thrills you more, then this competition is for you.
